

NEXT STEPS

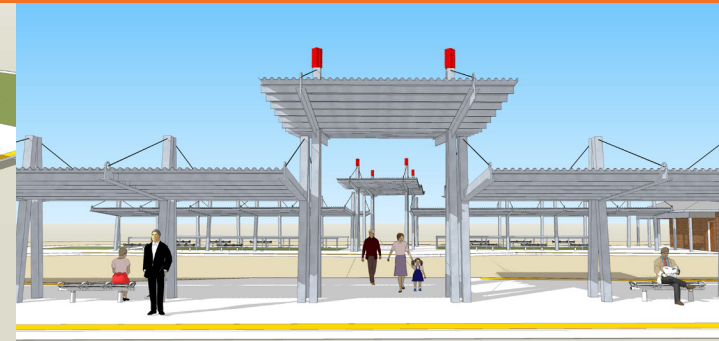

Kitsap Transit completed an extensive alternatives analysis and public outreach process. The Wheaton Way Transit Center project is progressing into the design phase. We are preparing for final design and construction by:

- Gathering community input
- Refining transit center design and layout
- Applying for permits and fulfilling State Environmental Policy Act requirements
- Conducting field work, traffic impact, and noise studies
- Identifying architectural elements
- Pursuing construction funding

WHY A TRANSIT CENTER?

- Improves transit access and reliability – transit at your fingertips
- Promotes bus ridership and reduces congestion on State Route 303
- Provides a permanent, proper passenger waiting environment
- Improves air quality by reducing vehicle miles traveled
- Allows for transit growth and expansion

A TRANSIT CENTER FOR GROWING NEEDS

Based on needs and growth projections for the Bremerton-Silverdale-Poulsbo corridor, Kitsap Transit proposes building an eight bus bay transit center and approximately 160-stall park and ride on a 4.14 acre site at 3915 Wheaton Way in Bremerton along SR 303. The Wheaton Way Transit Center allows for future growth of public transit operations along Wheaton Way for the next 30-40 years.

The proposed Wheaton Way Transit Center is north of and replaces the current transfer center operated by Kitsap Transit on private property.

NEW TRANSIT CENTER FEATURES

Kitsap Transit is committed to meeting the needs of current and future transit riders. Some of the features we are planning are:

-  8 bus bays including enhanced stops along Wheaton Way for frequent service
-  Sustainable, energy efficient LED lighting
-  160+ parking stalls
-  Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) accommodations
-  4 electric car charging stations
-  Small community police office
-  Bike racks
-  Raingardens for stormwater treatment
-  Convenient access to affordable housing
